Laney College
1970 - 1971
fall spring

LANEY COLLEGE CHILD CARE CENTER

The Child Care Center at Laney College was and is a revolutionary move. It was instituted by a group of dedicated students. One of these students is Dick Cooper, former Inter-Club Council President. Through his efforts and the will of student government, the Child Care Center came into being. This Center represents the will of the people moving in the interest of their people. The Center shows that the will of the revolutionist is greater than the man's trickology.

STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Brothers and sisters, enemies, and conservatives:

Laney College represents some of the best in revolutionary thinking. It is geared toward student, faculty, and administrative togetherness. It is motivated by its desire to achieve the best for its students.

The past spring semester will mark the end of one revolutionary period at Laney. Looking back we were able to see many changes take place. The people's revolutionary council accomplished a child care center, convocations, expanded bookstore hours, better support at the athletic events, political awareness rallies, self-help food and clothing programs. The end result of this period showed a desire on the part of Laney students to be more revolutionary in the Fall of 1970. The hope for this fall semester will be that these goals are continued. We hope that the new campus will add to the constructive work and foundations that have already been put down by dedicated revolutionaries.

The bullet has been shot, the enemy has been met and the students of the new people's Laney College are now able to say, "Power to the real people and death to the inhuman beast".

Robert A. Jenkins
President, Associated Students
Spring 1970

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The focus of Laney's student revolutionary government is upon effective student representation. It is a government based on a flexible constitution which is capable of being used in the students' interests; and is flexible enough to be a living entity in a changing society. It is an approach to the problems of student government.

It is necessary that the student leaders provide the active, people's representation so desperately needed by college students in an academic society. Student government should show a responsibility to accomplish what it can for the entire student body. The government at Laney was formed in an attempt to analyze, and to endeavor to solve the problems of the student.

Although securing an education is a primary concern among students, an active and interested student also has an opportunity to take advantage of the many benefits of student government. Through campus organizations, specific interests are promoted to help build a unity of spirit among students.

Interest in student affairs with these thoughts in mind will help you find a better start to a fuller, more enjoyable college career.

ECOLOGY SURVIVAL, The purpose of this organization shall be to stimulate interest in ecology and related subjects, and to provide for the exchange of ideas, information, and proposals for action in these areas on the Laney campus.

CHINESE STUDENT ASSOCIATION, The purposes of the club are as follows: 1) To show and maintain the traditional spirit of our distinguished Chinese civilization and ethos-love, faith and peace; 2) To correct the misconceptions concerning all of the new Chinese generation; 3) To encourage overseas Chinese youths (students), and help them to adjust to their new environments; 4) To hold recreational activities to strengthen our fellowship; 5) To promote relationship and understanding between Chinese students and students of other nationalities.

A representative from each authorized campus organization of the Associated Students of Laney College shall be a member of the Inter-Club Council.

The Inter-Club Council when in total operation can serve as a very positive tool in the establishment of a continuous student identifiable governing body.

The Inter-Club Council helps to solidify the whole concept of student representation. Through this body student power can be more readily promulgated.

ALL NATIONS will strive to promote good feelings, understanding and fellowship among students from all countries; to create a general interest in international events; to provide a lattice for the intermixing of cultures.

FENCING CLUB, The Laney College Fencing Club will strive 1) To stimulate an interest in the art of fencing and maintain good sportsmanship among all fencers; 2) To provide club members with the opportunity to compete regularly in tournaments sponsored by the Northern California Division of the Amateur Fencer's League of America; 3) and to support the activities of Laney College.

LA RAZA STUDENT UNION. The purpose of the La Raza Student Union is to help Latinos achieve economically, educationally, socially, and politically. It is the responsibility and necessity of the Latino intellectual to develop leadership in the community. It is only through education that our community will prosper.

It is important to realize that in order to survive in our own system, we must liberate ourselves from the position of helpers and maintenance people, which is the present state of affairs. Latinos must be independent rather than dependent of colonial people.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS. The object of this organization shall be: 1) to bring young people into the Republican Party and to provide an opportunity for them to find political expression and recognition; 2) to train young people as political workers and to work for the election of the Republican Parties' nominees for public office; 3) to foster and encourage the activities of the Republican Party and to promote its ideals; and 4) to collect, analyze, discuss and disseminate information concerning political activities.

DRAMA. The name of this organization shall be the Laney Student Drama Club. The purpose of this club will be to plan, promote, and produce dramatic presentations in modern and classical forms.

BLACK STUDENTS UNION. Believing that the educational system should provide students with an understanding of the true nature of self and the society that he lives in, and that students should have a voice in selecting the kind of education that will affect and help determine their destiny, we hereby form this student union. The purpose will be 1) to be concerned, and deal with the educational and political development of the Black student; 2) to deal with the needs of the Black student that are not being met by college; 3) to protect the interests of those Black students who do not have a voice and to see that the students are made aware of their rights; 4) to take action on issues and programs that effect the Black students; 5) to provide channels for handling grievances; and 6) to promote a spirit of cooperation with organizations sympathetic with our aims both on campus and in the community.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS. The purposes of this organization shall be: to enable its members to gain a better understanding of American politics through involvement; to encourage its members to contribute to the improvement of American politics through action based on commitment to Democratic principles and candidates; and to foster closer relationships between college and community.

JUDICIAL COUNCIL. The purpose of Judicial Council is three-fold. One, the appellate, involves the student body directly. As an Appellate Court the Judicial Council passes on the constitutionality of all contested acts of the Student Council, the Cabinet, Inter-Club Council, and the officers of the Associated Students while executing their duties, and member and/or member organizations of the Associated Students. Further, the Judicial Council reviews all constitutions of dues and other organizations and passed upon their constitutionality. Secondly, the Judicial Council is a grievance committee which involves you, the student, directly. If you have a complaint about the faculty or administration it should be brought to the Council's attention in written form. The Council will then try to solve the problem within ten days. Typical cases the Council has handled in the past year are unfair grading because of racial discrimination and refusal by an administrator to give a Federal loan. Lastly, the Judicial Council administers all Associated Student elections. The Judicial Council is located in Building W67.

PEOPLES' AREA 7 CONFERENCE

The State is divided into eight areas of representation. Laney falls in the seventh of these districts. The Area 7 Conference is held once every semester on a rotating basis with the other junior colleges in the conference.

Area 7 is a workshop type session where resolutions and recommendations are drafted and if passed, are forwarded on to the general assemblage of areas known as the California Junior College Student Government Association (State Conference).

CCCSGA (STATE CONFERENCE)

Laney is a member of the California Community College Student Government Association which meets twice each year. We send five delegates to this Conference where they discuss problems that face each college. From these workshops and the general assemblies come the recommendations and resolutions that will help to make our college community a more living facsimile to our local community. The resolutions passed at the state conferences are sent on to state legislature or to the proper authority.

The Office of Community Services is also charged with responsibility for college publicity and the total publications program of the college. Community Services staff work with all groups and organizations on campus to provide them with support and technical assistance for outreach, publicity and publications activities.

The Experimental College is a flexible student-directed program. The curriculum is constructed by faculty and students. The curriculum of the college is occupational, though the nature of its courses is not limited by this orientation. Thus, interest clusters, multiple levels without ability tracking, and flexible scheduling contribute to the innovative aspects of this program. The Experimental College offers continuous enrollment, with short term as well as semester length courses. A student may enroll in a limited or a full program. Transferable college credit is given according to the nature and level of work performed. Students qualify for this program if they are either 18 years old or high school graduates.

Students enrolled in this program are eligible for all of the activities, rights and privileges of any Laney College student.

INTER-GROUP SERVICES

This office serves as a facilitator in assisting students in all aspects of the educational process at Laney. It cooperates with all departments of the college and is an integral part in fulfilling the community college concept. Inter-group Services as a college resource, works with all segments of the community. In addition, direct services to students include, on a volunteer basis, Draft Deferment counseling, Legal Aid counseling in cooperation with the Oakland Legal Assistance Program and Welfare counseling.

FOOTBALL

Coach Stan Peters and his 1970 football team will be anxious to improve upon the total five-year Laney College football record of 34 wins and 10 losses.

This year's team will take on two strong pre-season games with El Camino, of Los Angeles, and DeAnza. A seven game league schedule will then follow in the strong Golden Gate Conference.

If the football team continues to represent itself as it has in the past then Laney College students can once again look forward to a very exciting football season.

BASKETBALL

Head Basketball Coach Laney Scott is said to have an important ingredient for 1970 that Laney basketball teams have never had, and that is a new gymnasium.

The 1970-71 season should be an interesting one for Coach Scott, as only two experienced players are returning. They are Norman Knowles, a 6'6" forward who started for the Eagles and also made second string all Golden Gate Conference, and Otis Williams, a 6' starting guard.

The 1970-71 Eagles will attempt to improve last season's 15-14 record.

FENCING

The Laney College Fencing Team had a promising first year of competition under the direction of Coach Lin Nelson. The team brought many honors to Laney including three bronze medals. They competed in both electric and standard events sponsored by the Northern California Division of the Amateur Fencer's League of America. Laney was the host to the Men's Unclassified Standard Foil Tournament, the first such competition held in the East Bay.

In addition to the scheduled competitions, the team presented demonstrations of the art to groups both on campus and at local high schools.

Participation in electrical fencing will be more extensive this year including competition in mixed doubles and four-man team events.

BASEBALL

Coach Don Christiansen's baseballers are expected to bounce back this year from a very disappointing season last year. The Eagles were strong defensively but the pitching did not hold up. There is no doubt that Coach Christiansen has been beating the bushes to come up with some talent that has well-developed skills. If this combination gels as it is expected to, then once again baseball will become of prominence on the Laney College campus.

TRACK

Coach Jim Coleman and Coach Nick Garedakis have been smiling for the last few months with energetic anticipation of this year's upcoming track season. They can often be heard to reiterate that "we'll be ready this year"! They have had a good recruiting summer and this has brought them another championship calibre team like they have had in the past. Through personal efforts of quite a few new track standouts, and a core of seasoned veterans, the Eagles will be flying high once again.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Laney College cross country team, under the direction of Coach Jim Coleman, is anticipating a big year in 1970. Coach Coleman has been steadily developing a power who in both track and cross country; with the addition of this year's incoming students and hold-overs from last season, we can anticipate a "bang up" cross country season.

This year's team will have eleven meets leading up to the State Championship at Moorpark Junior College on November 28. Good luck fellows!

WRESTLING

With the 1969-70 season being over Coach Nick Garedakis will be looking forward to building a stronger 1970-71 Laney College Wrestling Team.

The 1969-70 season had two returning letterman. With these Eagles to build around, the wrestling team will hope to represent the school this year.

The 1970-71 Golden Gate Conference Championships will be held in the gym of the new Laney College campus.

Come on out and see the "good guys" and "bad guys" grunt and moan.

SAILING

Laney College has had an outstanding reputation for developing a fine sailing team over the past few years. Coach Boris Gregory in his energetic way has established a fine reputation for these outstanding young people. The sailing team has been known to take the wind out of the sails of other junior college and four-year college teams.

We anticipate that once again the Gregory lead Eagles will be in the running for the Northern California Inter-Collegiate Sailing Championships.

Beginning September, 1970, this program will be conducted from Alameda Campus. All Laney and Merritt College students are eligible to participate.

HISTORY OF LANEY COLLEGE

It all began...in July of 1818 when Luis Peralta petitioned for a grant of land extending northward from San Leandro Creek to a small round hill. Not until August 16, 1820, was Peralta officially granted the land. In 1842 Luis divided his land among his sons.

Today cities mark the divisions: part of San Leandro and Oakland on Ignacio's division; Albany, Berkeley, and part of Oakland on Jose Domingo's section; part of San Leandro and Oakland on Antonio's; and Brooklyn, Alameda, and part of Oakland on Vincente's section. When he died in 1861 of influenza his property was estimated at a worth of $1,383,500. From this property Laney came into being.

The Oakland Board of Education established the Central Trade School and Technical Institute in 1927 which two years later became Laney Trade School and the Merritt School of Business. Traditionally, Laney was the institution which was solely responsible for trade-technical and vocational programs; Merritt was primarily geared to business courses.

In July, 1953, the Board of Education recognized Laney and Merritt as separate campuses of the new Oakland junior college. Merritt added courses in liberal arts, university and state college transfer, and Associate in Arts requirements to the curriculum in 1954. Laney and Merritt were under the supervision of the Oakland Board of Education through June 1964 and became known as Oakland City College (O.C.C.).

The residents of five adjacent cities voted to join Oakland in the establishment of a new district. On July 1, 1964, the new district was organized as the Peralta Junior College District.

The Peralta District today includes Alameda, Albany, Berkeley, Emeryville, Oakland and Piedmont. With the creation of the Peralta District Laney and Merritt were recognized as separate institutions, completely independent of each other. Both Colleges were designed to become comprehensive. As a result, Laney added a program of liberal arts courses, as well as, over 1600 day students.

Laney still provides a rather large selection of vocational programs; trade, technical, and business programs; and apprenticeship programs in fields ranging from Barber, to Baker, to a four-year apprenticeship program for printers. Trade-technical curricula include offerings in Aeronautics, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Technology, Automotive Occupations, Building and Construction Trades, Business Equipment Technology, Cosmetology, and Culinary Arts. Others are Dental and Medical Assisting, Drafting, Drycleaning, Electronic Communications, Fashion Arts, Graphic Arts, Machine Technology, Photography, Supervision, Shoe Rebuilding, Upholstery, and Vocational Nursing.

Aside from this curricula are the relatively new Liberal Arts programs which continue to grow and expand each semester. Some Liberal Arts offerings include a wide selection of Art and English courses, Humanities, Journalism, Life Sciences, Math, and Economics. Philosophy, Physical Sciences, Psychology, Social Sciences and Sociology are other courses offered. Laney is starting to take a new look at the Arts with many offerings in Music, Art, and a beginning program in Drama. For the first time this year a Foreign Language Laboratory was introduced at Laney. French, German, and Spanish are offered.

The passage of the $47 million Bond in October 1965 gives rise to even greater expectations for Laney. Architects, students, faculty, and administration are organizing ideas and plans for one of the new campuses--the Civic Center Site which will eventually replace Laney, possibly in September of 1969. This site and other sites in the East Oakland Hills, Alameda, and in the Berkeley-Albany-Emeryville area are hoped to absorb the 20,000 students anticipated by 1975.

This view of architects' model shows main entrance to downtown Oakland junior college from Ninth and Fallon Streets. Eight-story triangular tower overlooks entrance to campus. Oakland auditorium is at left.
