

Course number change affecting prerequisites and permissions

Graphic Arts

Former course = Current course

| FORMER Course Number | CURRENT Course Number | Course Title |
|----------------------|-----------------------|------------------------------------|
| GRART 132 | GRART 032 | Digital Documents (Adobe InDesign) |
| GRART 134 | GRART 034 | Adobe Illustrator Basics |
| GRART 136 | GRART 036 | Adobe Photoshop Basics |
| GRART 142 | GRART 042 | Web Graphics (Dreamweaver) |
| GRART 143 | GRART 043 | Web Graphics (Flash) |

Some courses are prerequisites or corequisites for other courses. Students who have taken the course under the current number have fulfilled the prerequisite and are eligible for the next class in the sequence. Unfortunately the system does not yet recognize the CURRENT course number as a prerequisite when students register. The system will incorrectly block students who are eligible for certain classes.

This is especially happening with GRART 032 (formerly GRART 132) and GRART 113.

Until this is fixed, we need to use substitution forms to help students register for appropriate classes.
