

RECOMMENDED SPRING PROGRAMS AT LANEY COLLEGE

Check Out These Programs and Enroll Today!

Management and Supervision

Laney's Management and Supervision (M/SVN) Certificate Program is for students currently employed in a managerial or supervisory role or aspiring to become a manager or supervisor.

M/SVN courses are available on campus and online to accommodate all schedules. Enrolled students may apply the M/SVN six courses (equivalent to 18 units) towards an Associate of Arts degree and transfer the eligible college credits to a four-year university to earn a bachelor's degree.

To learn more, contact Kim Glosson at kglosson@peralta.edu.

Photography

Laney's Photography Department rivals the best photography programs in the Bay Area. From entry-level digital classes to cultural and pro classes, Laney photo professionals meet all interests.

Explore commercial pro-shooting assignments to develop technical skills. With both digital and film labs to support image production and a fully-equipped 2,000 square foot studio, the stage is set for both available and artificial light.

Check out the Photography Department online at, Laney.edu/photography/.

Labor Studies

This program is designed to offer both background and current trends in various aspects of labor-management issues and relations as well as the ins and outs of union and worker of organizing and worker movement building.

Given the heightened social and political climate we are facing in the U.S. and around the globe, it is critical to have a strong foundation in social justice and a deep understanding of race and gender relations.

Find out more about Laney's Labor Studies program at, Laney.edu/labor_studies/.