

RECOMMENDED SPRING PROGRAMS AT LANEY COLLEGE

Check Out These Programs and Enroll Today!

Biomanufacturing

Careers in biomanufacturing are in high demand with job opportunities nationwide and well-paid salaries. The starting pay for entry-level jobs is $18-20 per hour and there are opportunities to advance rapidly within the industry.

Additionally, Jobs in manufacturing are growing at a rate of five percent annually. The projected employment by 2024 is 83,500!

For more information, visit: Laney.edu/biomanufacturing.

Ethnic Studies

This spring, the Ethnic Studies Department will offer a diverse array of classes that help students develop a critical consciousness and an understanding of the social, political, cultural, and economic forces that have shaped the histories and current day realities of People of Color. Courses include:

ETHST 30: Introduction to Race, Gender and Health

M/LAT 31: Survey of Chicana/Latina Women

AFRAM 11: Perceptions of African American Men

NATAM 2: Native Americans in Contemporary Society

Visit Ethnic Studies online at, Laney.edu/ethnicstudies.

Also, check out courses in:

Dance

THEATER ARTS

Journalism

Chinese, Spanish, French

JAPANESE

Legal & Community
Interpreting

